MIDDLE EAST FREIGHT DISRUPTION

Ongoing conflict in the Middle East has closed major shipping routes, including the Strait of Hormuz. Freight costs have risen 3–4x for some routes, causing severe congestion at Jebel Ali (UAE), Bahrain, and Oman. Some Vietnamese exporters have temporarily suspended new orders to these destinations due to delivery risk. The Middle East represents ~15% of Vietnam's pepper export turnover. UAE exports rebounded +54.1% MoM in April.

SUPPLY CHAIN RISK

1. 🛢️ Gulf nations produce 44% of global sulfur — a refining by-product with no short-term substitute when supply contracts.
2. 🧪 Sulfur shortage chokes DAP/MAP fertilizer production in China, Morocco & Indonesia, tightening global phosphate supply.
3. 💰 Global fertilizer prices at elevated levels: Urea $674/tonne, DAP $851/tonne as of mid-March 2026.
4. 🌿 Vietnam imports significant volumes of DAP, NPK & potash — production costs per kg of pepper rise directly.
5. 📉 Vietnam's 2026 pepper output already forecast down 15–20% vs. 2025 due to extreme weather — compounding the margin squeeze.
6. 🤝 Farmers earning less, spending more = stronger incentive to withhold supply, supporting floor prices and tightening spot availability.
7. 📦 Gulf naphtha shortfall raises plastic resin costs — vacuum bags, PE sacks, and drum packaging for exports become more expensive.
